Wilmington, DE – The Jewish Federation of Delaware was named a winner in the 2024 dotCOMM Awards honoring excellence in web creativity and digital communication. Federation received Honorable Mention recognition in the Nonprofit Website category for ShalomDelaware.org.

The competition is unique in that it reflects the role of creatives in the dynamic web that is transforming how we market and communicate products and services.

dotCOMM Awards’ categories are the elements of the web’s evolving tools. Interactivity, content, design, social media, video, apps, blogs and influencers are all important components of digital public relations, marketing and advertising campaigns. Together, they generate branding, customer engagement and ultimately sales.

Seth J. Katzen, President and Chief Executive Officer of the Jewish Federation of Delaware stated, "ShalomDelaware.org serves as the community portal to Jewish life in Delaware & the Brandywine Valley. Connecting to our vibrant Jewish community is just a click away..."

dotCOMM Awards is administered and judged by the Association of Marketing and Communication Professionals (AMCP), one of the largest, oldest and most respected evaluators of creative work in the marketing and communication industry.
